- To receive the digital downloads I use in my right brain planning practice, you may become a monthly Ko-fi patron.

ONLINE SESSIONS:

- (2) monthly community sessions (and occasional one-to-one sessions):
 - $\circ\quad$ To discuss a monthly theme in a small group setting.
 - Open discussion about ideas and inspiration for right brain planning.
 - Ask questions and discuss ideas for right brain planning as a group.
- We will typically meet the second Saturday each month + the last Friday for discussion and to set aside time for a monthly review and journal-planner prep.
 - Both of these sessions help to reassure members when we feel stuck + offer kindred support and ideas for right brain planning.
 - Being in a kindred community reduces the angst of doubt and the process of maintaining a creative practice.
 - Braveheart, together we are stronger and together we are able to move through our questions and doubts and wandery times.
